With the increasing number of books and the system in use and cataloging, conditions were becoming unsatisfactory and were making different methods necessary. The State Library Commission sent its secretary from Concord, her services and transportation being paid by the Commission, to start the work and give instruction to the librarian in modern library practice.

The library has been cataloged according to the Dewey decimal system, which is in use in the greater proportion of libraries in the country. The books have been reclassified and placed on the shelves, so that books on like subjects stand together.

An author card and a title card are made for each book of fiction, and each book of non-fiction has an author card and cards under the subject it covers. This will make it possible to tell what books are in the library whether one knows only the author, title or subject of the book.

By using a card system, the same by which all modern business is being recorded, it is possible to keep the records up to date from this time on.

While the books were all called in, it was thought best to install a new charging system, and the Girl Scouts have signified their willingness to help in the pasting and necessary preparation of cards for this. Many books need rebinding and mending and some are so badly worn that they must be discarded. Some rebinding has been done at intervals and the Commission suggests that each year a certain number of worn books should be sent to a bindery in order to have the books kept in good condition and at less expense than buying new to replace them. The expense to the library will be for the necessary supply of cards, a filing cabinet for them, and the board of the secretary. Our librarian has shown commendable zeal in learning to use the typewriter in order to type the cards and in giving her time toward the cataloging.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Troy School Board:

I herewith submit to you my sixth annual report as Superintendent of Schools, the twenty-fourth under district supervision.

At the close of the school year, Principal Graser of the high school declined a re-election, as did Miss Gibson and Miss Brooks in the primary school.

In filling the position of principal of the high school, many applications were considered, and Mr. Charles S. Eaton, a graduate of Colby College, was secured to fill the position. The high school has been fortunate in retaining the services of Miss Knowlton and Miss McGregor for another year.

In the primary grades Miss Mary Catherine Barrett took the position that had been held for two years by Miss Gibson. Miss Barrett is a graduate of Keene Normal School, and served one year as teacher of the Columbian Intermediate school in Fitzwilliam Depot.

Miss Catherine Dunn, also a Keene graduate, who has taught two years at West Hill, was transferred to the position made vacant by the refusal of Miss Brooks to return for a fourth year, and the position left vacant at West Hill was filled by Miss Anna Dunn, who attended the 1923 summer session at Keene Normal School.

I am glad to report that all the schools are doing good work at this time. It took some time for conditions to become entirely favorable in the high school, but this school is now doing excellent work.

Considering the large number of pupils in the several rooms in the primary building, the work done in that building is exceptionally good. The enrollment in grades five and six is fifty-two; in grades four and five, fifty-seven; in grade three, thirty-seven; in grade two, thirty-eight; and in grade one, thirty-six.

The need for more room in the primary building is apparent to all who have examined the conditions there. The voters a year ago did not quite feel like attempting the outlay required for the proposed addition to the building, and the matter has been allowed to rest during the year, but the need for more room still remains. Possibly within two or three years something definite can be accomplished toward relieving the congested condition in those rooms.

In the high school building 93 pupils have been enrolled, as compared with 79 a year ago. The addition made to that building a year ago made ample room for caring for the additional enrollment.

The attendance at the high and junior high school during the past year has been very good, and the number of tardy marks for the entire building was only twenty-nine for the school year. When it is noted that during the school year, 1917-18, there were 251 tardy marks for 72 pupils in that building, the improvement in regular attendance can be appreciated. The number of tardinesses for all the schools during the past year was 345, which is too large, but when compared with 908 tardy marks for 302 pupils six years ago, it will be seen that there has been a decided improvement in school attendance.

During the present school year, Dr. Emerson, assisted by Miss Davis, the Fitzwilliam school nurse, has been making the physical examination of the pupils. It is the desire of the Department of Education that these examinations be made early in the year, and I am very glad to report that this work has been systematically attended to.

The interest shown by a number of parents who have brought about the organization of a Parent-Teacher Association is gratifying. Some three years ago an attempt was made along this line, but the parents did not seem quite ready for it. This year, however, it seems to be backed with interest and enthusiasm that will insure its success. Similar organizations in other towns have accomplished much for the welfare of their schools, and I have every reason to believe that this organization will be able to accomplish equally important results.

The increase in the equalized valuation, as given by the State Tax Commission, has reduced the amount of state aid awarded to Troy. As the amount granted by the state next year will not be materially different, these figures must be taken into consideration in making the appropriations for the coming school year. The general expenses of the schools have varied but little during the past two or three years. The present salary scale is slightly less in the aggregate than was paid last year. If we desire to retain experienced and competent teachers, some increase must be granted in order to hold them.

Once more, I desire to thank the members of the school board, teachers, pupils, and citizens, for their loyal support during the past year.

Very truly yours,

LEWIS S. RECORD,

Superintendent of Schools.

East Jaffrey, N. H., January 31, 1924.
